Headline:
Mainly dry today, some brightness. East coast cooler, some haar.

Today:
Mist and low cloud burning back to the east coast this morning where it may remain rather grey and cool in places. Otherwise mainly dry with sunny spells, chance of a shower across the Cairngorms this afternoon. Warm inland. Maximum temperature 20 deg C (68 deg F).

Tonight:
Any showers soon dying out this evening. The rest of the night will be dry with patchy cloud and lengthy clear periods. Haar returning to the north and east. Minimum temperature 6 deg C (43 deg F).

Sunday:
Haar burning off in the morning, the odd patch lingering along the east coast. Otherwise a dry day with plenty of warm sunshine, although the east coast a little cooler. Maximum temperature 21 deg C (70 deg F).

Outlook for Monday to Wednesday:
A fine dry and warm spell of weather with some sunny periods. Still the chance of patchy haar around the Aberdeenshire coast. Freshening southeasterly wind.
